We understand intimate personal care includes 'hands-on physical care in personal hygiene, and physical presence or observation during such activities.' Intimate personal care is any activity such as feeding, oral care, washing, changing clothes, toileting, first aid and medical assistance, comforting and support, and supervising intimate self-care that is required to meet the personal needs of a child regularly or during a one-off incident.

We have a duty to safeguard children and school personnel at all times. We must develop independence in each child but on those occasions when children need assistance they must feel safe, have personal privacy, feel valued, are treated with dignity and respect, are involved and consulted about their own intimate care with school personnel that are specially trained in intimate care procedures.

We wish to work in close partnership with parents/carers and other professionals to ensure continuity of care for pupils.

At all times we treat all children with respect but especially when intimate care is given. All school personnel are sensitive to each child's individual needs and no child will be attended to in a way that causes distress or pain.

We treat every child as an individual treating them gently and sensitively as possible in order not to cause any form of distress, embarrassment or pain.

Egginton Primary School

We are aware that free sanitary products will be offered to girls in all primary schools in England from early 2020 under plans announced by the Department for Education. This programme of free sanitary products is already in place in England's secondary schools.

We have a duty to take full account of the religious views and cultural values attached to aspects of intimate personal care with children. Also, to agree with parents, school personnel and children the appropriate terminology for private parts of the body and its functions.

We as a school community have a commitment to promote equality. Therefore, an equality impact assessment has been undertaken and we believe this policy is in line with the Equality Act 2010.

We all have a responsibility to ensure equality permeates in to all aspects of school life and that everyone is treated equally irrespective of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.
